Wall Street Brokers Now Sing Praises of Stock Market Bill

WASHINGTON—Now that the Stock Market Bill is safely passed and is being put into effect, the bulls and the bears on Wall Street are singing a different song. A lot of them are saying that the Act isn't so bad after all. Reason for this is twofold:

First, a lot of them really believe it, only raised hue and cry against the bill to head off anything stronger.

Second, this hue and cry unquestionably ruined what slight vestige of public confidence remained.

A lot of people figured that where there was so much smoke there must be some fire, and that the Moguls of the Market were out to bucket-shop the public at the earliest opportunity.

Now confidence must be restored. To this end some brokers actually are sending out circulars telling their customers that the Stock Market Act is a pretty good thing after all.

Spinach

Great men as well as children have to suffer it.

Clarence Darrow, winding up his thankless job as official critic of Hugh Johnson's thin-skinned NRA, is under the necessity to eat it daily. Relentlessly Mrs. Darrow holds him to it.

But there are complications. The Darrows live in a small hotel suite here, and the great lawyer fumes furiously at the way the spinach is prepared by the hotel chef. After experimental visits to a score of restaurants, Mrs. Darrow finally made arrangements with Childs to have the chef prepare spinach according to a special recipe, disguised with cream, a little onion, other camouflage.

No sooner do the Darrows enter the establishment now, than the word is flashed from one waitress to another, finally to waiting chef. It's on the table in a jiffy.

But still Mr. Darrow hates it. To one smiling waitress who served it he growled:

"There's no use trying to flirt with me. It won't make me like it the slightest bit more. It's terrible stuff, it always has been terrible stuff, and it always will be terrible stuff."

The waitress giggled. When Mr. Darrow left there was a 50-cent tip under the plate.

Too Serious

The fact that he is head of the NRA Employees Union is not the real reason John Donovan, research expert of the Labor Advisory Board, was fired by General Hugh Johnson.

The ex-horse soldier is far from a friend of militant labor, but he is not opposed to unionism among his workers. Nor had the silly, and wholly unfounded, charge of "inefficiency" anything to do with Donovan's dismissal.

The pugnacious young Irishman's offense goes far deeper than the alleged reasons for his ouster. His crime was that he took his job too seriously.

The purpose of the Labor Advisory Board is to analyze codes from the labor standpoint, and to recommend changes in the interest of labor.

Under Dr. Leo Wolman, former chairman, and Dr. Gustava Peck, his acting successor, this is as far as the Board has gone. If its suggestions are disregarded by Johnson, as is the case with most of them, Wolman and Peck have nothing more to say.

Donovan strongly disapproved such a policy.

A former section hand, mill worker, and machinist, who put himself through college by working as a dish washer, waiter, and clerk, his labor views are definitely Left.

Instead of merely making recommendations and going no further, Donovan belligerently demanded that Wolman and Peck fight for them. Also he became leader of a group of young experts who seconded his oppositionist activities.

It was to smash this disturbing faction that Donovan was fired.

It also is the reason why other dissidents may walk the plank in the near future.

Johnson and Peck have been

BANKER FACES 4-YEAR TERM

New York Judge Orders Joseph W. Harriman Sent To Federal Prison.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Joseph W. Harriman, private banker convicted of misappropriating the funds of his institution, today was sentenced to a term of four and one-half years in prison.

Harriman was ordered to serve his term in a federal penitentiary. The sentence was meted out by Federal Judge John C. Knox. No fine was imposed.

Execution of the sentence was postponed until next Tuesday to allow the aged banker time to appeal.

Harriman, convicted last week on 16 counts of false entries in the books and misappropriation of the funds of the Harriman National Bank and Trust company, was sentenced to 4 1/2 years on each count.

The sentences, however, are to run concurrently, not consecutively, meaning that at the most Harriman will have to spend only 4 1/2 years in prison.

Had he been given the maximum penalty under the law, Harriman could have been sentenced to five years on each count and fined $50,000. Had such sentences run consecutively he could have been imprisoned for 80 years and fined $80,000.

The aged, white-haired banker appeared dazed as Judge Knox meted out the sentence.

Action Voted 17 to 5, Repudiates Previous Support for Pickrel

BACK 3 OTHERS

Miss Dungan Receives Aid for Committee Job

The Pickaway-co Democratic executive committee with Chairman C. A. Leist presiding voted Tuesday evening 17 to 5, to "disregard any endorsement made for candidates for state offices not made at a regular meeting and that the committee shall not endorse any candidates for state offices who have opposition unless they are residents of Pickaway-co."

Twenty-two of the 29 committee members attended the meeting which was called upon petition of a sufficient number of the members.

RESCINDS BY IMPLICATION

The action rescinds by implication the endorsement of the candidacy of William G. Pickrel, of Dayton, for governor, which was announced recently by members of the committee.

Immediately after the announcement of the endorsement several members of the committee expressed their belief that the endorsement was not regular since the minutes showed that no endorsement of any candidate was to be made except in a regular meeting. Pickrel's petition, on a letter-head of the county Democratic organization, was circulated by one of the Dayton candidates' campaign workers in company with Harry Moore, a member of the county committee.

After the petition had been presented to a number of the committeemen it was announced sufficient members had signed it to give Mr. Pickrel the endorsement of the county organization.

The business meeting of the organization was held in the county auditor's office after a supper was enjoyed at the American Hotel Coffee shop.

THREE GIVEN SUPPORT

Three local residents were given endorsements by the committee. They include:

Miss Jemima Dungan, for state central committee woman from the 11th Ohio district. Miss Dungan now has the support of four of the five committees in the counties comprising the district. They are Pickaway, Ross, Fairfield, and Hocking. Perry-co has taken no action. She is opposed for election by Miss Josephine Justus, of Lancaster.

R. Rube' Rowe, Jackson-twp., was endorsed for a position as state highway department foreman. He now is employed in the department and has passed an examination which will result in his appointment as a foreman with the committee's support.

George Green, this city, was pledged the support of the committee for a job in the state highway patrol.

All three endorsements were by unanimous vote.

DANCER MUST PAY COST OF ACTION

LONDON, June 27.—Tilly Losch, vivacious Hungarian dancer was ordered today to pay all costs involved in her cross complaint against Edward F. W. James, artist, who yesterday won a decree nisi of divorce after an eight-day trial that stirred society and stage circles on two continents.

Sir Boyd Merriam, the judge before whom the case was tried, ruled that Tilly's charges of cruelty against James, who sued for divorce naming Prince Serge Obolensky as correspondent, were "made without the slightest foundation." The dancer and Prince Obolensky were found guilty of adultery by the jury.

UTILITY QUESTION PUT INTO PRIMARY

LIMA, June 27.—The public utility question was thrown squarely into the pre-primary political campaign today by Francis W. Durbin, Democratic leader here.

In an open letter to Congressman Martin L. Sweeney, of Cleveland, attacking the latter's endorsement of Charles Sawyer, of Cincinnati, for the Democratic nomination for governor, Durbin charged that both Sawyer and Clarence Brown, the latter a Republican candidate, were backed by utility interests.

12 ARE DROWNED

LORIENT, France, June 27.—Twelve persons were drowned and six injured according to the latest check today when a ferry boat carrying 100 arsenal workers was rammed in Lorient harbor by a rival ferry boat and sank.

Some of the drowned were trapped in the ship's cabin from which others were rescued by volunteers from the docks who dived and entered the enclosure which still contained some air.

OFFERED U. S. HELP

State Must Cooperate To Get It, He Says.

COLUMBUS, June 27.—(INS)—Appealing for speedy enactment of his 6-point building and loan program, Gov. George White today urged the third special session of the 90th General Assembly to reach out and grasp the helping hand extended by the federal government.

"Congress and the President of the United States," he said in his message, "have offered to help restore building and loan associations to their rightful place in the financial structure."

"Before the associations in this state can take advantage of such assistance, enabling legislation must be passed by this legislature. Such legislation will constitute the new foundation upon which Ohio's thrift and home financing institutions of the future will be erected."

MUST BE ON BOOKS

"Until such legislation is placed on our statute books hope for recovery of such institutions is indeed remote."

The governor did not appear in person. His message was read to the legislature by the House and Senate clerks.

Referring to the six building and loan measures drafted by the special senate committee and later introduced in both houses, the governor said their consummation promises these things:

1. Greater protection to the investing public by reducing reckless, selfish or extravagant building and loan management.
2. A new flow of funds with which to rehabilitate the construction industry.
3. A necessarily slow but ultimately certain return of liquidity.
4. Rehabilitation and renewed life for institutions responsible for one-third of the people's savings.
5. More efficient regulation.
6. Opportunity for the reestablishment of home financing agencies.

WRONG MAN TAKEN, CHICAGOAN IS FREE

CHICAGO, June 27.—His kidnappers were gentlemen and even apologized for seizing the wrong man, Andrew Sciaccia, 50, reputedly wealthy cable owner, insisted to police today after he returned home unharmed 24 hours following his abduction.

No ransom was paid, Sciaccia and members of his family insisted although an attorney representing the family had issued an invitation to the abductors to open ransom negotiations. Police expressed the opinion that some agreement had been reached with the kidnappers.

Sciaccia said he was released "somewhere on the south side" late last night and returned home in a taxicab. He explained:

"It was all a mistake. They got the wrong man."

JURY IN SAM'S CREEK MURDER IN STALEMATE

Harley Stewart Faces Second Trial in Death of Son, 20

ARGUE NINE HOURS

Second Youth Faces Three Ohio Judges

Harley Stewart, 50-year-old Sam's creek farmer, was in the Hocking-co jail today awaiting a second trial on second degree murder charge filed against him following the fatal shooting of his son, Carl, 20.

A jury which heard his case early this week reported late Tuesday that it had been unable to reach a verdict. It had deliberated nine hours.

It is expected the case which is being heard before Judge Harley Whitcraft will be set down for immediate re-trial.

IN SELF DEFENSE?

The trial started Monday morning with selection of a jury. Stewart, formerly a highly reputed farmer, pleaded self defense.

He shot and killed his son with a shotgun while the son was trying to enter the house in which the father had barricaded himself. Feeling existed between the father and son after the former killed the younger Stewart's dog.

The trial was the first murder trial for Hocking-co in five years.

GREENVILLE, June 27.—Waiving a jury trial, Erwin Chandler, 20, one of two Glens Falls, N. Y., brothers charged with the first degree murder of Mrs. Belle Harter, 70-year-old tobacco stripper during an attempted robbery, today was to be placed on trial before a court of three judges.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant, of the Ohio Supreme court, assigned Judges H. A. Miller, of Celina, A. C. Rinsinger, of Eaton, and Judge George Crawford, of Greenville, to hear the case.

Erwin's brother, Cassius, 24, was convicted of first degree murder in connection with the slaying last week but his life was saved when the jury recommended mercy. He will be sentenced to life imprisonment at the conclusion of his brother's trial.

The defendants claim an interest in two feet of the lot, which is adverse to her rights, Miss Allen's petition claims. She asks that the cloud upon this title be removed and that the defendants be compelled to show, where interest if any, they have in two feet of the lot and that the same be adjudged null and void.

Defendants listed in the petition, prepared by Max Seyfert, Jr., and C. A. Leist, are George H. Fickard, Helen F. Gunning and B. F. ## AVERAGE RECEIPTS OF STATE'S LIQUOR STORE HERE $75.15

Circleville's state liquor store has had an average daily business of $75.15 since its opening, April 28, it was revealed in figures released today.

The total amount of money collected at the store in its 50 "open days" of existence is $3,757.92. R. G. Peters, cashier, reports. This covers the period through Monday. The heaviest day for sales was Saturday, June 16, when $220.60 worth of liquor was sold, while Monday, June 4, was the poorest day for sales with only $26.70 being put in the cash register.

SATURDAYS HIGH

Saturday has been the high sales day, it is shown in the report. The store opened on Saturday, April 28 with sales of $184.95. On following Saturdays up to date, the sales have been as follows:

May 5, $155; May 12, $202.70; May 19, $193.25; May 26, $104.80; June 2, $161.85; June 9, $179.92; June 16, $220.60, and June 23, $155.50.

Monday appears to be a "blue Monday" as far as liquor sales are concerned for they usually average but $35 on that day.

The majority of liquors sold here consist of "cheaper" brands of whisky, according to Mr. Peters. Very little wine is sold and still smaller quantities of the $5 imported whiskies are dispensed, he says.

Up to May 28, 117 stores in Ohio have done a total business of $1,566,796.35 and the liquor control department has paid into the general fund of the state $100,000 from the $1 a gallon tax.

FIGHT BOOTLEGGERS

The department of liquor control, through the local store, today announced a downward revision of the price list and a campaign to stamp out the illegitimate traffic in liquor and is soliciting the aid of all citizens by asking them to confine their liquor purchases to the state-operated store.

Col. John A. Hughes, director of the state department of liquor control, in announcing the drive on the illicit liquor traffickers says: "The bootlegger pays no taxes or permit fees. He scoffs all regulatory measures for the protection of the public and goes about peddling his vile poison to the detriment of all society."

"The people of the state can aid the department of liquor control in stamping out this illegitimate traffic by confining their purchases of liquor exclusively to the state stores," Col. Hughes concluded.

COUNTY GETS LIQUID TAX

Check For $9,601.30 Is Sent Here; To Be Used For Schools.

Pickaway-co will receive $9,601.30 from the three-months liquid fuel tax distribution. It was announced today at the Columbus office of State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy.

The money is to be used for operation of schools in the state. A total of $2,108,720 was distributed to all of Ohio's counties.

These taxes from which the distribution was made were collected during February, March, and April, it was said.

Distribution is based on the average daily attendance in the schools—1,201,243, which amounts to a fraction more than $1.75 per pupil.

The distribution of intangible or classified taxes will be made to the county auditors on the first Monday in August, Tracy said. Indications are that the amount will not reach the estimated figure of $5 per average daily attendance, but will be about $4.20.

College President's Wife Claims She Was Paid to Quit Country

MT. VERNON, June 27.—Charges that Dr. William F. Peirce, aged president of Kenyon college, and prominent Episcopalian churchman, paid her to leave the country were on file today in the Knox-co courts by his estranged wife, Mrs. Louise F. Peirce.

Her accusations comprised a cross-petition to Dr. Peirce's answer to her divorce suit. She said after her "expulsion" from the college president's home at Gambier in January, 1933, that Dr. Peirce gave her $3,000 on condition that she leave the country.

She recounted that she had refused alimony settlements because they were proffered on the condition that she drop charges of extreme cruelty in her divorce suit.

SEVERE STORM STRIKES OHIO; HEAT RETURNS

Lancaster Reports More Than Two Inches of Rain During Night

7-10 INCHES IN CITY

More Sweltering Weather Is Prediction

By International News Service

Rain storms of near cloudburst proportions accompanied by heavy winds which caused thousands of dollars property damage and the death of one man today gave way to the sweltering heat wave.

While the torrential rain measured 2.20 inches at Lancaster, a near tornado whipped through Wayne and Summit counties, wrecking buildings, uprooting trees and disrupting light and power service.

Peter Hahn, aged 60, was crushed to death when a barn on his farm near Orrville in which he and three others took refuge from the rain collapsed. Those with him, his son, William, a grandson, Robert, 10, and a hired hand, Ralph Jackson, escaped without serious hurts.

COLUMBUS HIT TOO

Columbus also felt the wrath of the storm, when trees and telephone poles were felled. Traffic on the northside there was completely disrupted by the uprooted trees and poles. Other cities also reported property damage from the wind and rain.

The rain, according to government weather observers, was general throughout the state. Precipitation reported included: Lancaster, 2.20 inches; Lima, 1.28; Sidney, 1.03; Marion, .72; Napoleon, .71; Norwalk, .70; Mansfield, .80; Wilmington one inch; Canton, .69 and Jackson, .49. There was no rainfall reported from Cincinnati yesterday.

Corn and pasture lands benefited from the rainfall, which also brought a welcome respite from the heat in a welcome respite. Temperatures remained in the 70's yesterday and warmer weather was promised for the central and lake regions tomorrow.

WILMINGTON HIGH

High mercury readings included: Wilmington, 87; Napoleon, 95; Jackson, 95; Marion, 94; Sidney, 93; Norwalk, 93; Lima, 91; and Cincinnati and Mansfield 90.

Those were official readings but the temperatures at street levels were believed to be several degrees higher. Besides scattered thunder-showers, forecasters could see no break on the heat wave.

Yesterday's storms marked the second serious series of weather twisters that swept Ohio in the past week. The most severe occurred late last Friday when thousands of dollars loss because of property damage was recorded.

Circleville awoke Wednesday to find a little of the much awaited relief from the hot spell which has gripped this section during the past few days.

Temperatures had dropped and a cool breeze was stirring following a bountiful rain which drenched the city early today. According to Dr. H. F. Clarke, local weather observer, a total of 70 of an inch of rain fell in the down-pour.

The mercury went up and down in its little glass house during

Lone McClarren Player Reaches Base On 'Oils'

Purcell Blanks Meats, 14-0, With Doc Ferguson Only Man To Touch First Base; Perfect Support Helps Cause.

A line single over second base by Doc Ferguson in the fifth inning of last night's recreation ball game prevented Carl Purcell, Circleville Oil pitcher, from entering baseball's mythical Hall of Fame. Ferguson was the only Meat player to reach first base in the game won 14-0 by the rejuvenated Oil team.

Purcell did not issue a base on ball and his defense, which rose to real heights at times, did not err on a single play. Only two balls went to outfield, one being Ferguson's hit, the other a fly ball by Smalley to Howard White in the sixth inning. The Oil pitcher also fanned five of the McClarens while turning in his masterpiece.

3 INFELDERS STAR

The play of Art Walker, Art Steele, and Eve Merriam at third, short, and second was pleasing to watch. These boys who promise to make the Oils about the strongest infield in the league went to both sides for difficult ground balls then turning in perfect pegs to first base for the out. Especially was the play of Steele flashy.

Fifteen putouts were recorded at first base in the nine innings, while

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

THE PERFORMANCE OF Carl Purcell last night was due partly to confidence on his own part in addition to his good support—Sunday afternoon the McClarens treated his offerings in a rough manner—Purcell said he wouldn't get six hits in the regular league game. His threat was not an idle one since he gave only one single and retired the side in order in all but the fifth inning.

Frank Lynch, league president, has assigned Joe Lynch and Ab Reid to umpire Wednesday evening's game—John Swank and Russ Miller worked nicely in Tuesday's fray.

It seems as though the Red Birds are moving up—They have been successful in most of their recent contests and Tuesday evening drove the ace of the Minneapolis mound staff, Jess Petty, to cover with a three run rally in the first frame—it is possible Petty may try to again turn back the Birds—About the only hope the Millers now have for victory is Ray Starr and it is possible the Red Birds may knock off the team from Minneapolis in all the games of the series, just as Louisville did.

It must have been a pleasure to see Terry Moore round those bases in his home run to the score board—He snatched off his cap and set sail.

The outfielder who has replaced Hal Anderson really can run.

The name of Raymond H. Smith, esquire—police officer, was not included in the roster of the Circleville Oil team, Monday evening. He belongs to the Oils.

SEVERE STORM

recorded was 68, Dr. Clark reported.

Observers are predicting "generally fair" weather for today and Thursday, with a probability that another hot spell will get underway during this period.

Too much rain at this time will have an unfavorable effect on the wheat crop, agriculture experts say, although the corn crop may be materially aided. The majority of Pickaway-co farmers are now harvesting the wheat and on the whole the reports have been good.

The mercury hit a maximum of 96 yesterday.

Fear that a definite break in the heat wave is not in sight yet is expressed by some observers. They point to low pressure areas in the northwest and high pressure districts in southeastern United States as indications that the hot spell is not broken.

RED BIRDS READY FOR 'HOMECOMING'

COLUMBUS, June 27.—One of the most colorful occasions of the present home stay is scheduled for Thursday night at 8:30 p. m. at the Red Bird stadium when the Columbus Club entertains its "big brother" the St. Louis Cardinals. It will be homecoming night at the stadium with seven former Columbus stars in the Card lineup.

From last year's Red Bird team which won the American Association pennant and the Little World's series title will be Paul Dean, pitcher, Burgess Whitehead, infielder, Jack Rothrock, outfielder, Jim Lindsey, pitcher, Bill Delancey, catcher and Mike Gonzales, coach, all on the Card roster. In addition the Cards will have Pat Crawford, slugging Columbus first baseman of former years.

GREER HURLS BIRDS TO WIN

Big Ed Tough 'In Pinches As Mates Club Petty and Holsclaw.

COLUMBUS, June 27.—With the 1933 American Association pennant floating over the Red Bird stadium, the Columbus Association club faced the Minneapolis Millers today in the second game of their series.

The birds raised the flag last night while many of baseball's notables looked on, and then proceeded to hand the Millers a 7-4 lacing.

Hank Gowdy, once a scoreboard boy in Columbus, later a major league and world series star, and now coach of the Boston Braves hoisted the pennant. Among the dignitaries present were President William Harridge of the American League, Judge Bramham of the minor associations, and President Thomas J. Hickey of the American Association.

GREER VICTOR

Ed Greer was nipped for 11 hits but went the route for Columbus in the game that followed the exercises. Jess Petty and Harry Holsclaw yielded 13 hits.

TOLEDO, June 27.—Victors over the visiting St. Paul Club in the first game of their series, the Toledo Mudhens were to clash with the Saints again today. Fifteen hits and the effective hurling of Triett Sewell gave the Hens a 9-4 victory yesterday.

THIN, AND WORN-OUT TIRES UNSAFE FOR HOLIDAY MOTORING

Local tire dealers are taking an active part in the national effort being made to insure a safe and sane Fourth of July in their home towns by urging tire inspection that will remedy or eliminate doubtful tires which may mar the holiday.

"There are undoubtedly more cars in operation now than there were at the same time last year," said Mr. Pettit, local Goodyear dealer, commenting upon the situation, "which means that in the case of holiday travel highway accidents are more likely to happen if a great many of these cars have to stop to repair tires or, worse, if tires go flat or blow out when traveling in heavy traffic."

"It is now pretty generally known that tires that are thin and well worn can't stand the gaff of summer driving on hot pavements. It is only natural that more tires will go in warm weather in cold because hot days expand their air pressures and the thin casings won't stand the added strain."

"About the best insurance for trouble free driving, Mr. Pettit pointed out, is to take a few minutes for a careful checkup at a reliable service station. The Pettit company will make this inspection, no charge and without obligation."

"We have a complete new line of Goodyear's new 'G-3' All-Weather tires which will give 43 per cent more mileage by actual test," concluded Mr. Pettit. "In addition this tire provides increased protection against skidding when traveling over wet roads."

Life Is Chain of Processes

Enough is known about life and growth for science to realize that it is the net result of a chain of processes following one another. It might be reasonable to suppose, declares a scientist in the New York Herald Tribune, that some of these processes in the chain are slowed down greatly by the presence of heavy hydrogen. As heavy hydrogen replaces the ordinary kind, growth is practically inhibited. The inhibition of a few essential steps, in the chain of events that cause growth, would stop all the processes that succeed them in the growth sequence.

SCHOOLS MUST OPEN IN FALL CLAIMS FARM BUREAU BOARD

Schools will open this fall as usual if the Ohio Farm Bureau has anything to say about it, Perry L. Green, president said today. The board of trustees in bi-monthly session at Columbus adopted a tax program which they will try to enact before the General Assembly because they believe it will provide sufficient revenue to pay school operating expenses, based on ability to pay, and is applicable to all classes and groups of citizens in the state.

"The situation is a serious one," Mr. Green remarked. "Many schools in the state, especially in the rural districts, will not open next fall unless legislation is forthcoming in the present special session of the General Assembly, or foreseen in the regular session to be held next January. The Ohio Farm Bureau is pledged to protect the educational institutions and more especially the rural schools. It is pledged to efficiency in operation of the schools, but also in adequate educational facilities."

HOODSON REPORTS

In presenting the report of the legislative committee to the board, J. M. Hoodson, pioneer, chairman, said, "In view of the fact that the Ohio General Assembly has not enacted a comprehensive tax program, and since conditions are made all the more acute by the ten mill limitation amendment, we suggest a reaffirmation of the farm bureau tax program with such adjustments and modifications as are made necessary by present conditions and as are consistent with the resolutions adopted by the delegate body at its last annual meeting."

The report of the committee was finally adopted by the board of trustees, which constitutes the tax program of the state farm bureau, calls for the following legislation based upon ability to pay: A personal earned income tax law with graduated rates and low exemptions, increases in the rates of certain items of the present intangible tax law, an increase in utility excise taxes sufficient to offset their savings due to the ten mill limit amendment, strict economy in government with such changes as will save money and not impair the service needed, and a general retail sales tax with low rates, with exemptions for basic farm supplies such as seeds, feeds and fertilizers to provide what ever revenues are absolutely necessary for the operation of the schools not produced by the foregoing.

9. To make possible the insurance of savings in building and loan associations through the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation for building and loan associations.

10. To permit the gradual conversion of state building and loan associations into federal capital made available for the construction of new homes.

As evidence that an emergency exists, White recalled that "some 2,000,000 of our citizens have entrusted more than one billion dollars of their savings to building and loan associations of this state."

"To aid the thousands of distressed depositors and shareholders in those institutions which are unable to function and to enact legislation which will avoid a repetition of the sad experience which depositors and shareholders have had in a large part of this state, is our paramount and immediate duty," he declared.

The present insalubrious condition was due in no small measure, he told the legislature, to the failure of the laws to keep pace with the rapid growth of building and loan institutions.

There being no effective statutory restraint, some associations were tempted to and did make speculative real estate loans foreign to their original purpose in order to maintain high rates of dividends and interest, the governor pointed out.

"But it is significant," he added, "to note that in those localities where these errors were avoided, and in those institutions which maintained a conservative rate of interest and dividends and continued to make loans chiefly to home owners, the building and loan association has stood the strain of this depression without serious interruption to service rendered."

To the newspapers of Ohio for arousing public interest in the need for proposed building and loan legislation, the governor paid high tribute, saying "they have rendered a constructive public service."

NRA Permanent Mallon Claims

COLUMBUS, June 27.—A prediction that the NRA will become a permanent agency was before the 44th annual convention of the Ohio Bankers association here today.

Paul Mallon, Washington columnist and newspaperman, who made the prediction, expressed a belief that President Roosevelt plans additional "reforms" and

"Let Us Be Free"

Look around you is to see that liberty, rightly owned, has brought happiness; the nation born of the genius of high a venture and lofty purpose on July 4, 1776, has been a prosperous and productive people.

This liberty is a living thing, a growing plant, which is watered by aspirations of recurring ideals and grows only in the sun of utter faith in the freedom of mankind. The great experiment launched 158 years ago is never done and those who contemplate a finite state, bounded and limited by written conditions, are setting frontiers to the imagination of man and forbidding him to reach higher and higher towards the best dream of society he can conceive.

The nation was founded to be forever man's highest conception of government. It claimed and believed itself to be greatly in advance of any experiment of man up to that time. It has sense enough to recognize also that time would bring new revelation to the minds of men and thus novel terms of social relationship would be created. The nation said not "Let us be exactly this in form and that in letter;" it said simply "Let us be free!"

And on the wings of that sublime phrase genius made its painful way from the ends of the earth; enterprise abandoned its ancient homestead and uprooted its attachments to become a pioneer; energy dedicated itself to carving out cities and villages from desert and wilderness; hope lighted in the hearts of men and women remote and baffled and led them by faith to the making of a new nation.

"Let us be free!" Free to dare, free to challenge, free to invite all to the world and all its dreams, false and true; confident that a nation dedicated to liberty must be stronger than any lesser theory. Liberty is a living thing; it grows or it withers; sustains its genius on the wings of daring, or smugly stifles in the mortifying atmosphere of self-complacency.

that he then will weld the NRA into a permanent trade bureau, probably under the federal trade commission.

Charles M. Mills, representing the Foreign Bondholders protective association, made an unscheduled appearance before the 600 bankers attending the convention to tell them that a third of the $6,000,000,000 of outstanding foreign bonds are in default. One third of the bonds are held by investors in this country, he claimed.

WHITE THERE, TOO

Gov. George White also gave a brief talk before the bankers, whose convention was opened yesterday by the keynote address of Clark Will, Circleville banker, and retiring president of the association. Will warned against allowing credit facilities of the nation to fall into the hands of politicians. He was elected to the executive council of the national association by the state group yesterday. Others named to posts in the national group included:

Louis George, Cincinnati, vice-president for Ohio; John H. McCoy, of Marietta, a member of the national nominating committee with Ralph Sneath, of Tiffin, as alternate; R. H. Clark, Springfield, vice-president of the national bank division; E. E. Goubeaux, Greenville, vice-president of savings division; and Benjamin Batsch, Toledo, vice-president of the trust division.

Election of officers of the state group was to be held today after the bankers hear addresses by several nationally prominent public officials and bankers.

MONROE-TWP

The quarterly Township Sunday School convention will be held Sunday evening at the Christian church, beginning at 8 o'clock. New officers for the year will be elected at this meeting. Each church is expected to take part in the program.

The home coming at the Methodist church last Sunday was well attended. The Children's Day exercises was held in the afternoon, a good program was rendered.

Miss Mary Boatman of Highland is spending a few days this week here visiting friends. Mr. and Mrs. James Gouley and family of New Holland visited over the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Neff and family, of Cincinnati; Miss Ruth Troutman, Glen and Fred Troutman of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Troutman and daughter, of Commercial Point spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Troutman of Five Points. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Winfough has moved from the Dennis farm to the Justus property in Five Points.

Miss Helen Fausnaugh, who has been working in Circleville, is spending a week at her home near Five Points.

HARRISON DEFIES GOVERNOR TO NAME SCHOOL PROGRAM

FINDLAY, June 27.—A challenge to Governor George White to definitely state a permanent school program had been hurled here today by Frank G. Harrison, Massillon candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

He urged state support of schools with a minimum of $45 for elementary pupils and $67.50 for high school students. He charged that, due to failure of the state legislature to amend laws to conform with the new 10 mill limitation, there is "no school board in Ohio which may even prepare a budget for school operations."

Construction work stops, too, when people quit building castles in the air.

If Wishes Came True

SENATOR L. J. Dickinson, who will manage the Republican national senatorial campaign, boldly prophesies that his party's candidate for U. S. Senator in Ohio will win "by reason of disension among the Democrats."

The prediction is both an expression of a wish that is father to the thought and a confession that the Republican candidate will possess no merits justifying his election. The nominee will win, admits Mr. Dickinson, not because he is qualified and deserves the support of the voters, but because, as he sees it, Democrats will throw away their chances by fighting among themselves.

The gentleman does not give Ohio Democrats due credit for the intelligence and the party loyalty they have shown in recent campaigns marked by primary contests.

In 1930, for instance, as this year, the Democrats had a primary contest for the nomination for the Governorship. Governor George White defeated an able opponent, Stephen M. Young. The rivalry did not split the party. In the regular election the Democrats made a bad blunder to shoulder to victory. Incidentally, they honored Mr. Young two years later by sending him to Washington as congressman-at-large, a position to which he seeks reelection this year.

In 1930, as this year, the Democrats had a contest for the U. S. Senatorial nomination. Robert J. Bulkley won in a field of five contenders. The party was not torn by dissension as a result of that contest. The rival aspirants and fellow Democrats united behind Mr. Bulkley and sent him to the Senate to which he was re-elected two years later.

Having thus shown that they can compose primary differences and work harmoniously in subsequent elections, Ohio Democrats cannot reasonably be expected to permit this year's contests to precipitate a conflict endangering party success.

Nor can Ohio Republicans and Democrats be counted upon to commit the folly that Mr. Dickinson devoutly hopes for and permit the election of a Republican opposed, as the Republican Senatorial candidate will be, to the Roosevelt recovery program and determined to obstruct and harass the President at every turn.

Ohio's majority in favor of the Roosevelt administration in the Literary Digest poll and Ohio Democrats' preference for party solidarity in November emphatically contradict Mr. Dickinson.

If the meek inherit the earth, there is a glorious future for the American taxpayer.

Let's Have the Answer

A CHALLENGE to the medical profession is contained in the statement by Dr. W. C. McCarthy, of Rochester, Minn., that "there are enough known facts, if they were properly and extensively applied, to solve the cancer problem."

The high standing of Dr. McCarthy in his profession is attested by the fact that he was chairman of the section of pathology and physiology of the American Medical association in the latter's recent convention in Cleveland. His statement was made in an address before the section over which he presided.

Dr. McCarthy declared that cancer is discoverable in a much earlier stage than that to which textbook descriptions apply, and that if removed then a cure can be effected. He recently had studied, he said, "over 1,200 cancers the size of a quarter or smaller, found surgically in the breast, stomach or large intestines."

The loss of between 100,000 and 150,000 lives annually in the United States, because of cancer, he charged, must be blamed on faulty methods in teaching medical students and on the failure of general practitioners to equip themselves for discovering cancer in its early and curable stages.

His indictment of teaching methods should demand the attention of medical school authorities as well as of the profession generally. No more important task confronts medicine than its war on cancer. That the fullest possible use should be made of every discovery in this field is evident.

Dr. McCarthy says this is not being done. Why? It remains for medical authorities to supply the answer.

Maybe Hitler will give Wilhelm a job as his assistant.

"THE LONE WOLF'S SON"

by LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

SYNOPSIS

Sailing from France to America aboard the S.S. "Navarre," Michael Lanyard, reformed "Lone Wolf," erstwhile master crook, meets wealthy Fay Crozier, one of his old-time shop patrons, and her lovely daughter Fenno. Mrs. Crozier shows Lanyard the famous Habsburg emeralds which she bought secretly to avoid payment of duty. Lanyard's experienced eye discovers that counterfeits have been substituted for the gems. He promises to try and retrieve the emeralds. Lanyard suspects Maurice Parry, a youthful fellow-passenger, who appears deeply interested in Fenno. The resemblance between Lanyard and Maurice causes the former to wonder if they are related. In a bridge game with two card sharks, Maurice loses heavily. Lanyard joins the players as Parry's partner, catches their opponents cheating and threatens to expose them unless Maurice's loss is called off. Later, Lanyard tells the appreciative Maurice that he can repay him by returning Mrs. Crozier's jewels. The youth removes the top of his cane only to find that Lanyard had been there before him and had replaced the stolen emeralds with zircons (false gems). Maurice discloses that he is Lanyard's son whom the latter believed killed during the war. Though happy at the reunion, Lanyard is disappointed to find his son a thief. Maurice explains he was forced to steal since boyhood in order to exist. Lanyard hopes his son's interest in Fenno will continue, for the boy's own good. Detective Crane, whom Lanyard knew from his "Lone Wolf" days, warns him that the two gamblers he exposed are "Jack Knife" Anderson and "English Archie," gangsters, who will seek revenge.

CHAPTER X

"That reminds me: you haven't answered my question yet." "Question?" "The one you ducked at the start-off—when I asked what come over you to make you feel you had a call to rescue that punk from a couple of tinhorns who weren't doing a thing, only trying to pick up a piece of pocket-money." "At this Lanyard gave a slow nod of admiration. "And you ask me to believe you slow-witted!" "I don't call it any great stunt to take notice when you don't run true to form—man who can mind his own business as well as you can." "All the same," Lanyard announced, "it will amuse me more to see how long it takes you to ferret out my motive unassisted." And with a laughing shake of his head, Lanyard took himself off. He wasn't ready to publish his relationship to the Maurice Parry of the passenger-list before he had had another talk with the boy and settled on some tale to account for his manifest prosperity. And although any tale would serve as long as both father and son told it, there was no time to be lost, with Crane openly sniffing already at their secret. . . . But Maurice, when again sighted from a distance, if still dancing attendance on Fenno Crozier, was no longer alone with her. A knot of young folk had formed round her deck-chair, and the boy seemed to be so high in their favor already that the father once more forbore from disturbing him. Nothing could be more calculated to prosper the fond paternal schemes, indeed, than such unexceptional associations. Lanyard accordingly cut through to the port deck, emerging from a thwart-slip passageway just in time to meet Messrs. Jack-knife Robinson and English Archie Barker strolling merrily aft, and to be cut dead by them. For all of Crane's warning, the circumstance left no more immediate impression than that a casual glance from the forward companionway entrance marked the saturnine Jack-knife person all alone by the rail and English Archie nowhere visible. Perhaps because the wind was freshening, with the sea beginning to break out whitecaps, Lanyard found the writing-room quite without its customary quota of ladies, assorted as to ages and conditions but all of one familiar frame of mind, tritely inscribing post-cards, supplied gratis by the steamship, to presumably envious friends at home. And when, after an hour or so, the lone roar of the whistle drove in through his muffling concentration the news that it was noon, the abstract eyes which the man lifted saw the room otherwise empty. That it could conceivably matter how long he had been sitting there alone naturally never entered Lanyard's head. He bent again to his letter and had plied a lively pen for perhaps fifteen minutes more when a voice pleasantly tuned said at his elbow: "So this is where you've been hiding! Maurice and I were looking all over!"

The reflection which leaped to his mind—"Maurice already, eh?"—and the normal association of ideas, caused Lanyard, as he rose, involuntarily to say aloud: "Fenno!" To which he was quick to add: "I beg your pardon—" "No, no!" the girl gayly insisted. "I like it, M. Lanyard, from you." "It's such an odd name and so delightful, so utterly the only name for you, one finds it far from easy to think of you in a style more formal—" "And anyway it would be silly—wouldn't it?—to 'mademoiselle' or 'miss' a minx! Please never call me anything but Fenno—I shall feel so much more at ease with you. And do sit down. I'm dying to talk."

When Lanyard had drawn up another chair he sat down, and in grave good-nature prompted: "About—" "But—of course!—about your son." "You are getting on with your siege of his peace of mind, aren't you?" Lanyard fenced to cover a disordered moment. "Considering that you have him at the stage already where he can't wait to tell you all his secrets." "I don't deserve the credit, really." The girl had her mother's trick of dimpling on those in her good graces. "It wasn't my rude good graces." "It wasn't my rude good graces that made the lad tell all—it was because he's so proud of you, he just had to tell some one or bust." "But had the good taste to choose you—" "Oh, no! I don't say he would have been so ready if I hadn't made eyes at him! But his pride in you was the compelling motive, really." "You make me very happy, Fenno." "I should think you ought to be; it's so marvelously romantic, your finding each other like this. And when I think I had something to do with it, that it was I who first drew your attention to him—" "Yes," Lanyard thoughtfully assented, "it is true, I do owe you that."

To undecide her was, of course, not to be thought of. Lanyard for all that would have been glad to know how much, and in what detail, Maurice had told the girl. Beneath the lightness of Fenno's manner there were intimations of an entente which he found disturbing. "And how proud you must be of him, that he not only came through an experience which would have destroyed any ordinary boy but came through a son you needn't be ashamed to own!" "He is fortunate to have you think so well of him, Fenno. Maurice then, bears out the diagnosis of his geste you made before you know him?" "I said he was, like you, dangerous but somehow sweet, didn't I?" She played teasing eyes in a pause of mock uncertainty. "Well, if you must know, I find him far less dangerous than he thinks he is and far sweeter than he wants to be thought. I mean—very much a man; that is to say, at heart a child." Lanyard gave a little quiet laugh. "If I hadn't lived so long in this world I might be more astonished. But I have learned that there are women who are born manwise, my dear, gifted from the cradle with an insight into our hearts that is, frankly, terrifying." "Nonsense. That all men are children is what every woman knows." "And you think Maurice will be a child in your hands? That you won't need five days more to make him call you hard names?" "Not two!" She deliberated, but with merry eyes. "I don't know, though, maybe I'll change my mind. After all, sweet names are sweeter." At this point one of the ship's officers poked his nose in at the door, trained it like a hunting dog on Lanyard, and followed it in—a trim young Frenchman with unimpeachable manners who none the less comforted himself, Lanyard thought, most mysteriously, for all the world like an amateur undertaker. "Monsieur Lanyard, is it not?" "I am he. Is there something—" "The Captain presents his compliments and will be gratified if monsieur will do him the honor to consult with him—if convenient, at once." Certainly, monsieur, Lanyard replied when an astonished wait had been prolonged without drawing one word of explanation. "Made-moiselle, I know, will excuse me." And gathering up his letters, he stuffed them in a pocket and followed out to the landing. "But this way, if you please," the officer objected when Lanyard, supposing himself bidden to wait on the Captain in his quarters, made to go out on deck. "Monsieur is expected in Suite 39, A Deck." "But that is Mrs. Innes Crozier's!" "Yes, monsieur." The officer, while still polite, put on a mulish look, and Lanyard had been prolonged without drawing one word of explanation. planning this house-cleaning for some time. What delayed them was fear of exactly the ruckus that has developed.

By raising the cry of "inefficiency" and "insubordination" they hoped to draw a red herring across the trail. But the scheme was too raw. They now have a situation on their hands which they may hear about for a long time to come.

"No, — working."
"Oh yeah? The gardener's night shift! That's a good one."
"Believe it or not. You see we had to take out one of these dead sycamores."
"But why at night? You can't hurt the feelings of a dead sycamore!"

"No, but you can hurt the feelings of the people. Last winter there was two dead trees we had to get rid of, so we dug 'em up,—day time, naturally. Well, you've no idea how many protests we got from the people against digging up trees on the Capitol Grounds."

"So now we do it at night. See?"

Merry-Go-Round

Senator Black of Alabama says that Tory obstruction to Brain Trust reforms is like the indifference of the people of Madrid to foul odors in the street. "Our ancestors lived through it," said tory, "so why improve the odor?"

Seasoned Capitol guides resent the importation of inexperienced youngsters who work for little, know less. Seasoned Guide Nolan swears he heard one of the neophytes say to a party passing through duPont Circle: "This, ladies and gentlemen, is a beautiful equestrian image of Admiral duPont."

The President's dog, Winks, enjoys press conferences almost more than his master. Roaming among newsmen in the rear he gets much sub rosa attention, sometimes almost steals the show from the President.

Manners change even in the White House. Reposing in a glass case "Oldest Silver Used in the White House" is a Porcupine Tooth-Pick Holder. Some weather also has brought a change in the Capital's evening dress. Until recently summer dinner guests sweltered in heavy, formal dinner jackets. Now the mode is the cool "monkey-jacket" or white duck dinner jacket.

Diplomats who ordinarily leave for the Summer, are laying in large supplies of these and settling down for hectic tariff treaty negotiations.

Johnda Tootle, Raymond Davis Wed at Home Ceremony Today

The white wedding gown worn by her mother twenty eight years ago at her wedding, which was an event of June 27, was chosen by Miss Johnda Tootle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Milton Tootle, of Monroe-twp., for her marriage to Mr. Raymond W. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Davis, also of Monroe-twp.

The wedding took place Wednesday morning, June 27, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. W. E. Ewing of the First Christian church of Mt. Sterling read the single ring ceremony in the living room of the home at 10 o'clock in the presence of thirty five guests, members of the immediate families and close friends.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Virginia Linkinaker, of Clifton Forge, Va., a school friend of the bride, gave a short musical program. She sang "O Promise Me," "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," and "Ich Liebe Dich" by Grieg.

The bride carried an arm bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was unattended. Her only ornament was the gold ear-rings which belonged to her great-grandmother, and which have been worn by several brides in the Tootle family.

Baskets of vari-colored garden flowers decorated the house for the wedding and the informal wedding breakfast following the ceremony.

Mrs. Davis is a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, and the University of Cincinnati. While in college, she became associated with Phi Beta, national music sorority, and was president of Women's Pan-Hellenic association at the Conservatory of Music, and editor of the school publication, The Codetta. After graduation, she was a member of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music before coming to Circleville where she has been supervisor of music in the schools for the past three years.

Mr. Davis, a graduate of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, received his law degree from the law school of Western Reserve university, Cleveland. He is a member of Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity, and Order of the Coif, national honorary legal fraternity. He is engaged in the present, practicing attorney of Pickaway-co.

The couple left after the wedding breakfast for a short motor trip through the East and upon return will be at home at 403 S. Court-st., this city.

Circleville guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Abernethy, N. Court-st., and Mrs. I. N. Abernethy, S. Court-st.

NORFOLK AND WESTERN RAILWAY

WILL YOU DO YOUR PART?

THIS is the season when automobile traffic is heaviest; it is the "open season" for highway grade crossing accidents. In this connection, the Norfolk and Western Railway presents herewith two records for the consideration of the public.

Record No. 1: Within the past ten years the N. & W. has expended $3,400,000 for the elimination of 147 highway grade crossings on the railroad. To safeguard the thousands who cross its tracks at grade, the railway has provided protection at 281 crossings at an expenditure of $780,000. For the maintenance of these devices and the pay of gatemen and watchmen, it spends $240,000 annually. For years the N. & W. has carried on a vigorous and unrelenting campaign to educate the automobile driver to "stop, look and listen".

Record No. 2: Incredible as it may seem, a recent check made at a number of protected grade crossings on the Norfolk and Western revealed—first, that of the total number of automobile drivers who arrived at crossings after the warning signals had begun to operate and before the trains reached the crossings, 61 per cent continued to cross the tracks in utter disregard of the warning; second, that in practically every case the attitude and conduct of the driver indicated a full consciousness of the signal warning and its purpose. Last year 143 automobile drivers ran through and broke down N. & W. grade crossing gates after they had been lowered for their protection against approaching trains. Last year 27 per cent of all grade crossing accidents on the railroad were due to automobile drivers driving into the sides of trains, either standing on, or passing over, grade crossings. The 1933 grade crossing toll was six killed, 37 injured.

Largely through its huge expenditures and its intensive activities in the interest of public safety, grade crossing accidents on the N. & W. have decreased 61 per cent during the past five years. But the Norfolk and Western and the other railroads of the country cannot alone solve this serious problem. They are doing more than their part. The rest is up to you. Will you do your part?

Wall Street Brokers Now Sing Praises of Stock Market Bill

WASHINGTON—Now that the Stock Market Bill is safely passed and is being put into effect, the bulls and the bears on Wall Street are singing a different song. A lot of them are saying that the Act isn't so bad after all. Reason for this is twofold:

First, a lot of them really believe it, only raised hue and cry against the bill to head off anything stronger.

Second, this hue and cry unquestionably ruined what slight vestige of public confidence remained.

A lot of people figured that where there was so much smoke there must be some fire, and that the Moguls of the Market were out to bucket-shop the public at the earliest opportunity.

Now confidence must be restored. To this end some brokers actually are sending out circulars telling their customers that the Stock Market Act is a pretty good thing after all.

Spinach

Great men as well as children have to suffer it.

Clarence Darrow, winding up his thankless job as official critic of Hugh Johnson's thin-skinned NRA, is under doctor's orders to eat it daily. Relentlessly Mrs. Darrow holds him to it.

But there are complications. The Darrows live in a small hotel here, and the great lawyer fumes furiously at the way the spinach is prepared by the hotel chef. After experimental visits to a score of restaurants, Mrs. Darrow finally made arrangements with Childs to have the chef prepare spinach according to a special recipe, disguised with cream, a little onion, other camouflage.

No sooner do the Darrows enter the establishment now, than the word is flashed from one waitress to another, finally to waiting chef. It's on the table in a jiffy. But still Mr. Darrow hates it. To one smiling waitress who served it he growled:

"There's no use trying to flirt with me. It won't make me like it the slightest bit more. It's terrible stuff, it always has been terrible stuff, and it always will be terrible stuff."

The waitress giggled. When Mr. Darrow left there was a 50-cent tip under the plate.

Too Serious

The fact that he is head of the NRA Employees Union is not the real reason John Donovan, research expert of the Labor Advisory Board, was fired by General Hugh Johnson.

The ex-horse soldier is far from a friend of militant labor, but he is not opposed to unionism among his workers. Nor had the silly, and wholly unfounded, charge of "inefficiency" anything to do with Donovan's dismissal.

The pugnacious young Irishman's offense goes far deeper than the alleged reasons for his ouster. His crime was that he took his job too seriously.

The purpose of the Labor Advisory Board is to analyze codes from the labor standpoint, and to recommend changes in the interest of labor.

Under Dr. Leo Wolman, former chairman, and Dr. Gustava Peck, his acting successor, this is as far as the Board has gone. If its suggestions are disregarded by Johnson, as is the case with most of them, Wolman and Peck have nothing more to say.

Donovan strongly disapproved such a policy.

A former section hand, mill worker, and machinist, who put himself through college by working as a dish washer, waiter, and clerk, his labor views are definitely left.

Instead of merely making recommendations and going no further, Donovan belligerently demanded that Wolman and Peck fight for them. Also he became leader of a group of young experts who seconded his oppositionist activities.

It was to smash this disturbing faction that Donovan was fired. It also is the reason why other dissidents may walk the plank in the near future.

Johnson and Peck have been

BANKER FACES 4-YEAR TERM

New York Judge Orders Joseph W. Harriman Sent To Federal Prison.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Joseph W. Harriman, private banker convicted of misapplying the funds of his institution, today was sentenced to a term of four and one-half years in prison.

Harriman was ordered to serve his term in a federal penitentiary. The sentence was meted out by Federal Judge John C. Knox. No fine was imposed.

Execution of the sentence was postponed until next Tuesday to allow the aged banker time to appeal.

Harriman, convicted last week on 16 counts of false entries in the books and misapplication of the funds of the Harriman National Bank and Trust company, was sentenced to 4 1/2 years on each count.

The sentences, however, are to run concurrently, not consecutively, meaning that at the most Harriman will have to spend only 4 1/2 years in prison.

Had he been given the maximum penalty under the law, Harriman could have been sentenced to five years on each count and fined $50,000. Had such sentences run consecutively he could have been imprisoned for 80 years and fined $80,000.

The aged, white-haired banker appeared dazed as Judge Knox meted out the sentence.

Action. Voted 17 to 5, Repudiates Previous Support for Pickrel

BACK 3 OTHERS

Miss Dungan Receives Aid for Committee Job

The Pickaway-co Democratic executive committee with Chairman C. A. Leist presiding voted Tuesday evening 17 to 5, to "disregard any endorsement made for candidates for state offices not made at a regular meeting and that the committee shall not endorse any candidates for state offices who have opposition unless they are residents of Pickaway-co."

Twenty-two of the 29 committee members attended the meeting which was called upon petition of a sufficient number of the members.

RESCINDS BY IMPLICATION

The action rescinds by implication the endorsement of the candidacy of William G. Pickrel of Dayton, for governor, which was announced recently by members of the committee.

Immediately after the announcement of the endorsement several members of the committee expressed their belief that the endorsement was not regular since the minutes showed that no endorsement of any candidate was to be made except in a regular meeting.

Pickrel's position, on a letter-head of the county Democratic organization, was circulated by one of the Dayton candidate's campaign workers in company with Harry Moore, a member of the county committee.

After the petition had been presented to a number of the committee members had signed it to give Mr. Pickrel the endorsement of the county organization.

The business meeting of the organization was held in the county auditor's office after a supper was enjoyed at the American Hotel Coffee shop.

THREE GIVEN SUPPORT

Three local residents were given endorsements by the committee. They include:

Miss Jemima Dungan, for state central committee woman from the 11th Ohio district. Miss Dungan now has the support of four of the five committees in the counties comprising the district. They are Pickaway, Ross, Fairfield, and Hocking. Perry-co has taken no action. She is opposed for election by Miss Josephine Justus, of Lancaster.

R. L. Rowe, Jackson-twp., as state highway department foreman. He now is employed in the department and has passed an examination which will result in his appointment as a foreman with the committee's support.

George Green, this city, was pledged the support of the committee for a job in the state highway patrol.

All three endorsements were by unanimous vote.

DANCER MUST PAY COST OF ACTION

LONDON, June 27.—Tilly Losch, vivacious Hungarian dancer was ordered today to pay all costs involved in her cross complaint against Edward F. W. James, artist, who yesterday won a decree nisi of divorce after an eight-day trial that stirred society and stage circles on two continents.

Sir Boyd Merriam, the judge before whom the case was tried, ruled that Tilly's charges of cruelty against James, who sued for divorce naming Prince Serge Obolensky as correspondent, were "made without the slightest foundation." The dancer and Prince Obolensky were found guilty of adultery by the jury.

UTILITY QUESTION PUT INTO PRIMARY

LIMA, June 27. The public utility question was thrown squarely into the pre-primary political campaign today by Francis W. Durbin, Democratic leader here.

In an open letter to Congressman Martin L. Sweeney, of Cleveland, attacking the latter's endorsement of Charles Sawyer, of Cincinnati, for the Democratic nomination for governor, Durbin charges that both Sawyer and Clarence Brown, the latter a Republican candidate, were backed by utility interests.

12 ARE DROWNED

LORIENT, France, June 27.—Twelve persons were drowned and six injured according to the latest check today when a ferry boat carrying 100 arsenal workers was rammed in Lorient harbor by a rival ferry boat and sank.

Some of the drowned were trapped in the ship's cabin from which others were rescued by volunteers from the docks who dived and entered the enclosure which still contained some air.

Messages Read By Clerks Asks Adoption of Six-Point Plan.

OFFERED U. S. HELP

State Must Cooperate To Get It, He Says.

COLUMBUS, June 27.—(INS)—Appealing for speedy enactment of his 6-point building and loan program, Gov. George White today urged the third special session of the 90th General Assembly to reach out and grasp the helping hand extended by the federal government.

"Congress and the President of the United States," he said in his message, "have offered to help restore building and loan associations to their rightful place in the financial structure."

"Before the associations in this state can take advantage of such assistance, enabling legislation must be passed by this legislature. Such legislation will constitute the new foundation upon which Ohio's thrift and home financing institutions of the future will be erected."

MUST BE ON BOOKS

"Until such legislation is placed on our statute books hope for recovery of such institutions is indeed remote."

The governor did not appear in person. His message was read to the legislature by the House and Senate clerks.

Referring to the six building and loan measures drafted by the special senate committee and later introduced in both houses, the governor said their consummation promises these things:

1. Greater protection to the investing public by reducing reckless, selfish or extravagant building and loan management.
2. A new flow of funds with which to rehabilitate the construction industry.
3. A necessarily slow but ultimately certain return of liquidity.
4. Rehabilitation and renewed life for institutions responsible for one-third of the people's savings.
5. More efficient regulation.
6. Opportunity for the reestablishment of home financing agencies.

WRONG MAN TAKEN, CHICAGOAN IS FREE

CHICAGO, June 27.—His kidnapers were gentlemen and even apologized for seizing the wrong man, Andrew Sciaccia, 50, reputedly wealthy cafe owner, insisted to police today after he returned home unharmed 24 hours following his abduction.

No ransom was paid. Sciaccia and members of his family were released although an attorney representing the family had issued an invitation to the abductors to open ransom negotiations. Police expressed the opinion that some agreement had been reached with the kidnapers.

Sciaccia said he was released "somewhere on the south side" late last night and returned home in a taxicab. He explained:

"It was all a mistake. They got the wrong man."

This enrollment is the fourth for the county.

JURY IN SAM'S CREEK MURDER IN STALEMATE

Harley Stewart Faces Second Trial in Death of Son, 20

ARGUE NINE HOURS

Second Youth Faces Three Ohio Judges

Harley Stewart, 50-year-old Sam's creek farmer, was in the Hocking-co jail today awaiting a second trial on second degree murder charge filed against him following the fatal shooting of his son, Carl, 20.

A jury which heard his case early this week reported late Tuesday that it had been unable to reach a verdict. It had deliberated nine hours.

It is expected the case which is being heard before Judge Harley Whitcraft will be set down for immediate re-trial.

The trial started Monday morning with selection of a jury. Stewart, formerly a highly reputed farmer, pleaded self defense.

He shot and killed his son with a shotgun while the son was trying to enter the house in which the father had barricaded himself. Feeling existed between the father and son after the former killed the younger Stewart's dog.

The trial was the first murder trial for Hocking-co in five years.

GREENVILLE, June 27.—Waiving a jury trial, Erwin Chandler, one of two Glens Falls, N. Y., brothers charged with the first degree murder of Mrs. Belle Harter, 70-year-old tobacco stripper, during an attempted robbery, today was to be placed on trial before a court of three judges.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant, of the Ohio Supreme court, assigned Judges H. A. Miller, of Celina, A. C. Risinger, of Eaton, and Judge George Crawford, of Greenville, to hear the case.

Erwin's brother, Cassius, 24, was convicted of first degree murder in connection with the slaying last week but his life was saved when the jury recommended mercy. He will be sentenced to life imprisonment at the conclusion of his brother's trial.

AVERAGE RECEIPTS OF STATE'S LIQUOR STORE HERE $75.15

Circleville's state liquor store has had an average daily business of $75.15 since its opening April 28, it was revealed in figures released today.

The total amount of money collected at the store in its 50 "open days" of existence is $3,757.92. G. Peters, cashier, reports. This covers the period through Monday.

The heaviest day for sales was Saturday, June 16, when $220.60 worth of liquor was sold, while Monday, June 4, was the poorest day for sales with only $26.70 being put in the cash register.

SATURDAYS HIGH

Saturday has been the high sales day in the report. The store opened on Saturday, April 28 with sales of $134.35. On following Saturdays up to date, the sales have been as follows:

May 5, $155; May 12, $202.70; May 19, $193.25; May 26, $194.40; June 2, $161.85; June 9, $179.92; June 16, $220.60, and June 23, $155.50.

Monday appears to be a "hibble Monday" as far as liquor sales are concerned for they usually average but $35 on that day.

The majority of liquor sold here consists of cheaper brands of whiskey, according to Mr. Peters. Very little wine is sold and still smaller quantities of the 55 imported whiskeys are dispensed, he says.

Up to May 28, 117 stores in Ohio have done a total business of $1,566,796.35 and the liquor control department has paid into the general fund of the state $100,000 from the $1 a gallon tax.

WIGHT BOOTLEGGERS

The department of liquor control, through the local store, today announced a downward revision of the price list and a campaign to stamp out the illegitimate traffic in liquor and is soliciting the aid of all citizens by asking them to confine their liquor purchases to the state-operated store.

Col. John A. Hughes, director of the state department of liquor control, in announcing the drive on the illicit liquor traffickers says: "The bootlegger, pays no taxes or permit fees. He ignores all regulatory measures for the protection of the public and goes about peddling his vile poison to the detriment of all who buy."

"The people of the state can aid the department of liquor control in stamping out this illegitimate traffic by confining their purchases of liquor exclusively to the state stores," Col. Hughes concludes.

COUNTY GETS LIQUID TAX

Check For $9,601.30 Is Sent Here; To Be Used For Schools.

Pickaway-co received $9,601.30 from the three-months liquid fuel tax distribution. It was announced today at the Columbus office of State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy.

The money is to be used for operation of schools in the state. A total of $2,108,720 was distributed to all of Ohio's counties.

These taxes from which the distribution was made were collected during February, March, and April, it was said.

Distribution is based on the average daily attendance in the schools, 1,201,243, which amounts to a fraction more than $1.75 per pupil.

The distribution of intangible or classified taxes will be made to the county auditors on the first Monday in August, Tracy said. Collections are the amount will not reach the estimated figure of $5 per average daily attendance, but will be about $4.20.

Seymour Girl Taken To Home, Tuesday Eve

Marjorie Seymour, 17, who suffered injuries in the automobile-truck accident fatal to Wilma Binkley, early Sunday, was removed to her home Tuesday night.

Miss Seymour, who was riding in the front seat of George Ankrum's car, had cuts and bruises. The deceased Binkley girl was also in the front seat.

Hospital attaches reported Wednesday that the condition of Ethel Binkley and Kathie Van Velsken seems improved. Cecil Ankrum, who has a broken leg, also remains in the hospital.

Mrs. Kirkendall Dies

Funeral services were held at her Columbus residence Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher Kirkendall, sister of Mrs. Julia Weaver of Ashville and Mrs. Ella Caldwell of Walnut-twp., who died at her home Monday.

Besides the two sisters, Mrs. Kirkendall is survived by two brothers, Stephen Fisher of Columbus and Bert Fisher of Van Buren, O.

Her accusations comprised a cross-petition to Dr. Peirce's answer to her divorce suit. She said after her "expulsion" from the college president's home at Gambier in January, 1932, that Dr. Peirce gave her $3,000 on condition that she leave the country. She requested that she had refused alimony settlements because they were proffered on the condition that she drop charges of extreme cruelty in her divorce suit.

College President's Wife Claims She Was Paid to Quit Country

MT. VERNON, June 27.—Charges that Dr. William E. Peirce, aged president of Kenyon college, and prominent Episcopalian churchman, paid her to leave the country were on file today in the Knox-co courts by his estranged wife, Mrs. Louise E. Peirce.

Her accusations comprised a cross-petition to Dr. Peirce's answer to her divorce suit. She said after her "expulsion" from the college president's home at Gambier in January, 1932, that Dr. Peirce gave her $3,000 on condition that she leave the country. ### RFC Examiner Denies U.S. Wants Control of Banks

COLUMBUS, June 27.—Governmental co-operation with Ohio banks, coupled with a denial that the administration desired to control the banking facilities of the nation, was pledged today by John K. McKee, chief examiner for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, in a speech before the 44th annual convention of the Ohio Bankers association here.

"The government's program of loans to industry through the RFC will be made in cooperation with banks," he promised. "I am sure it will be the policy of our board to co-operate with the Federal Reserve bank as well as local banks in making loans. I wish to emphasize that the law authorizes us to participate in loans with other lenders, including banks."

Banks in Ohio, according to McKee, have repaid more than 75 per cent of the loans they received

SEVERE STORM STRIKES OHIO; HEAT RETURNS

Lancaster Reports More Than Two Inches of Rain During Night

7-10 INCHES IN CITY

More Sweltering Weather Is Prediction

By International News Service

Rain storms of near cloudburst proportions accompanied by heavy winds which caused thousands of dollars property damage and the death of one man today gave way to the sweltering heat wave.

While the torrential rain measured 2.20 inches at Lancaster, a near-tornado whipped through Wayne and Summit counties, wrecking buildings, uprooting trees and disrupting light and power service.

Peter Hahn, aged 60, was crushed to death when a barn on his farm near Orrville in which he and three others took refuge from the rain collapsed. Those with him, his son, William, a grandson, Robert, 10, and a hired hand, Ralph Jackson, escaped without serious hurts.

COLUMBUS HIT TOO

Columbus also felt the wrath of the storm, when trees and telephone poles were felled. Tornado on the north side was completely disrupted by the uprooted trees and poles. Other cities also reported property damage from the wind and rain.

The rain, according to government weather observers, was general throughout the state. Precipitation reported included: Lancaster, 2.20 inches; Lima, 1.20; Sidney, 1.03; Marion, .72; Mansfield, .71; Norwalk, .70; Mansfield, .60; Wilmington, one inch; Canton, .50 and Jackson, .49. There was no rainfall reported from Cincinnati yesterday.

Corn and pasture lands benefited from the rainfall, which also brought a welcome respite from the heat. City temperatures yesterday and warmer weather was promised for the central and lake regions tomorrow.

WILMINGTON HIGH

High mercury readings included: Wilmington, .97; Napoleon, .85; Jackson, .93; Marion, .84; Sidney, .83; Norwalk, .82; Lima, .81; and Cincinnati and Mansfield, .80.

One McClarren Player Reaches Base On 'Oils'

Blank Meats, 14-0, With Doc Ferguson Only Man To Touch First Base; Perfect Support Helps Cause.

The single over second base of last night's recreation ball prevented Carl Purcell, Circleville Oil pitcher, from entering the mythical Hall of Fame. Ferguson was the only Meat player to reach first base in the game, 14-0 by the rejuvenated Oil team.

Purcell did not issue a base on ball and his defense, which rose to real heights at times, did not err on a single play. Only two balls went to outfield, one being a fly ball to Howard White in the sixth inning. The Oil pitcher fanned five of the McClarrens while turning in his masterpiece.

8 INFELDERS STAR
The play of Art Walker, Art Steele, and Eve Merriman at third, and second was pleasing to watch. These boys who promise to make the Oils about the strongest infield in the league went to both sides for difficult ground balls then turning in perfect pegs to first base for the out. Especially was the play of Steele flashy. Fifteen putouts were recorded at first base in the nine innings, while six popped up to the infield, five fanned and one flied to the outfield.

The Oils hopped on the offerings of Leonard Buskirk, McClarren pitcher, for 19 base hits including two triples by Walker in addition to a pair of singles, and a triple, double and single by Eve Merriman. Purcell robbed himself of a home run after his long drive to left center by failing to touch the third sack in his way home. He hit three doubles.

ADD MERLE DAVIS
Tonight finds the Mecca restaurant and Circle City dairy doing their chores. The Mecca has added Merle Davis, who was released by Manager Charlie Scott after Monday's evening's game.

COLUMBUS, June 27.—With the 1933 American Association pennant floating over the Red Bird stadium, the Columbus Association club faced the Minneapolis Millers today in the second game of their series.

The birds raised the flag last night while many of baseball's notables looked on, and then proceeded to hand the Millers a 7-4 lacing.

Hank Gowdy, once a scoreboard boy in Columbus, later a major league and world series star, and now coach of the Boston Braves hoisted the pennant. Among the dignitaries present were President William Harbridge of the American League, Judge Bramham of the minor associations, and President Thomas J. Hickey of the American Association.

THIN, AND WORN-OUT TIRES UNSAFE FOR HOLIDAY MOTORING

Local tire dealers are taking an active part in the national effort being made to insure a safe and sane Fourth of July in their home towns by urging tire inspection that will remedy or eliminate doubtful tires which may mar the holiday.

"There are undoubtedly more cars in operation now than there were at the same time last year," said Mr. Pettit, local Goodyear dealer, commenting upon the situation, "which means that in the case of holiday travel highway accidents are more likely to happen if a great many of these cars have to stop to repair tires or, worse, if they do not stop at all when traveling in heavy traffic."

"It is now pretty generally known that tires that are thin and well worn can't stand the gaff of summer driving on hot pavements. It is only natural that more tires let go in warm weather than in cold because hot days expand their air pressures and the thin casings won't stand the added strain."

"About the best insurance for trouble free driving, Mr. Pettit pointed out, is to take a few minutes for a careful checkup at a reliable service station. The Pettit company will make this inspection no charge and without obligation. "We have a complete new line of Goodyear's new 'G-3' All-Weather tires which will give 43 per cent more mileage by actual test," concluded Mr. Pettit. "In addition this tire provides increased protection against skidding when traveling over wet roads."

Life Is Chain of Processes

Enough is known about life and growth for science to realize that it is the result of a chain of processes following one another. It might be reasonable to suppose, declares a scientist in the New York Herald Tribune, that some of these processes in the chain are slowed down greatly by the presence of heavy hydrogen. As heavy hydrogen replaces the ordinary kind, growth is practically inhibited. The inhibition of a few essential steps, in the chain of events that cause growth, would stop all the processes that succeed them in the growth sequence.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become a ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. Everbody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that decays your personal charm. They can't do it for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all.

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extract. If you want to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions on the box. Get at drug stores.

SCHOOLS MUST OPEN IN FALL CLAIMS FARM BUREAU BOARD

Schools will open this fall as usual if the Ohio Farm Bureau has anything to say about it, Perry L. Green, president said today. The board of trustees in bi-monthly session at Columbus adopted a tax program which they will try for enactment before the General Assembly because they believe it will provide sufficient revenue to pay school operating expenses, based on ability to pay, and is applicable to all classes and groups of citizens in the state.

"The situation is a serious one," Mr. Green remarked. "Many schools in the state, especially in the rural districts, will not open next fall unless legislation is forthcoming in the present special session of the General Assembly, or foreseen in the regular session to be held next January. The Ohio Farm Bureau is pledged to protect the educational institutions and more especially the rural schools. It is pledged to efficiency in operation of the schools, but also in adequate educational facilities."

HODSON REPORTS

In presenting the report of the legislative committee to the board, J. M. Hodson, Pioneer, chairman, said, "In view of the fact that the Ohio General Assembly has not enacted a comprehensive tax program, and since conditions are made all the more acute by the ten mill limitation amendment, we suggest a reaffirmation of the farm bureau tax program with such adjustments and modifications as are made necessary by present conditions and as are consistent with the resolutions adopted by the delegate body at its last annual meeting."

The report of the committee as finally adopted by the board of trustees, which constitutes the tax program of the state farm bureau, calls for the following legislation based upon ability to pay: A personal earned income tax law with graduated rates and low exemptions, increases in the rates of certain items of the present intangible tax law, an increase in utility excise taxes sufficient to offset their savings due to the ten mill limit amendment, strict economy in government with such changes as will save money and not impair the service needed, and a general retail sales tax with low rates, with exemptions for basic farm supplies such as seeds, feeds and fertilizers to provide whatever revenues are absolutely necessary for the operation of the schools not produced by the foregoing.

MONEY ASSURED

8. Assurance of a future source of money for the family that desires to live under its own roof.

9. To make possible the insurance of savings in building and loan associations through the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation for building and loan associations.

10. To permit the gradual conversion of state building and loan associations into federal capital made available for the construction of new homes.

As evidence that an emergency exists, White recalled that "some 2,000,000 of our citizens have entrusted more than one billion dollars of their savings to building and loan associations of this state."

"To aid the thousands of distressed depositors and shareholders in those institutions which are unable to function and to enact legislation which will avoid a repetition of the sad experience which depositors and shareholders have had in a large part of this state, is our paramount and immediate duty," he declared.

The present insubstantial condition was due in no small measure, he told the legislature, to the failure of the laws to keep pace with the rapid growth of building and loan institutions.

There being no effective statutory restraint, some associations were tempted to and did make speculative real estate loans foreign to their original purpose in order to maintain high rates of dividends and interest, the governor pointed out.

"But it is significant," he added, "to note that in those localities where these errors were avoided, and in those institutions which maintained a conservative rate of interest and dividends and continued to make loans chiefly to home owners, the building and loan association has stood the strain of this depression without serious interruption to service rendered."

NRA Permanent Mallon Claims

COLUMBUS, June 27—A prediction that the NRA will become a permanent agency was before the 44th annual convention of the Ohio Bankers association here today.

Paul Mallon, Washington columnist and newspaperman, who made the prediction, expressed a belief that President Roosevelt plans additional "reforms" and that he then will weld the NRA into a permanent trade bureau, probably under the federal trade commission.

Charles M. Mills, representing the Foreign Bondholders protective association, made an unscheduled appearance before the 600 bankers attending the convention to tell them that a third of the $6,000,000,000 of outstanding foreign bonds are in default. One third of the bonds are held by investors in this country, he claimed.

Gov. George White also gave a brief talk before the bankers, whose convention was opened yesterday by the keynote address of Clark Will, Circleville banker, and retiring president of the association. Will warned against allowing credit facilities of the nation to fall into the hands of politicians.

He was elected to the executive council of the national association by the state group yesterday. Others named to posts in the national group included:

Louis George, Cincinnati, vice-president for Ohio; John H. McCoy, of Marietta, member of the national nominating committee with Ralph Sneath, of Tiffin, as alternate; R. H. Clark, Springfield, vice-president of the national bank division; E. E. Goubeaux, Greenville, vice-president of savings division; and Benjamin Batsch, Toledo, vice-president of the trust division.

Election of officers of the state group was held today after the bankers heard addresses by several nationally prominent public officials and bankers.

Miss Helen Faushaugh, who has been working in Circleville, is spending a week at her home near Five Points.

HARRISON DEFIES GOVERNOR TO NAME SCHOOL PROGRAM

FINDLAY, June 27—A challenge to Governor George White to definitely state a permanent school program had been hurled here today by Frank G. Harrison, Massillon candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

He urged state support of schools with a minimum of $45 for elementary pupils and $67.50 for high school students. He charged that, due to failure of the state legislature to amend laws to conform with the new 10 mill limitation, there is "no school board in Ohio which may even prepare a budget for school operations."

Construction work stops, too, when people quit building castles in the air.

"Let Us Be Free"

TO look around you is to see that liberty, rightly owned, has brought happiness; the nation born of the genius of high a venture and lofty purpose on July 4, 1776, has been a prosperous and productive people.

This liberty is a living thing, a growing plant, which is watered by aspirations of recurring ideals and grows only in the sun of utter faith in the freedom of mankind. The great experiment launched 158 years ago is never done and those who contemplate a finite state, bounded and limited by written conditions, are setting frontiers to the imagination of man and forbidding him to reach higher and higher towards the best dream of society he can conceive.

The nation was founded to be forever man's highest conception of government. It claimed and believed itself to be greatly in advance of any experiment of man up to that time. It has sense enough to recognize also that time would bring new revelation to the minds of men and thus novel terms of social relationship would be created. The nation said not "Let us be exactly this in form and that in letter;" it said simply "Let us be free!"

And on the wings of that sublime phrase genius made its painful way from the ends of the earth; enterprise abandoned its ancient homestead and uprooted its attachments to become a pioneer; energy dedicated itself to carving out cities and villages from desert and wilderness; hope lighted the hearts of men and women remote and baffled and led them by faith to the making of a new nation.

"Let us be free!" Free to dare, free to challenge, free to invite all the world and all its dreams, false and true; confident that a nation dedicated to liberty must be stronger than any lesser theory. Liberty is a living thing; it grows or it withers; sustains its genius on the wings of daring, or smugly stifles in the mortifying atmosphere of self-complacency.

"Believe it or not. You see we had to take out one of these dead sycamores."
"But why at night? You can't hurt the feelings of a dead sycamore."
"No, but you can hurt the feelings of the people. Last winter there was two dead trees we had to get rid of, so we dug 'em up, day time, naturally. Well, you've no idea how many protests we got from the people against digging up trees on the Capitol Grounds."

Now the mode is the cool "monkey-jacket" or white duck dinner jacket. Diplomats who ordinarily leave for the summer, are laying in large supplies of these and settling down for hectic tariff treaty negotiations.

Johnda Tootle, Raymond Davis Wed at Home Ceremony Today

The white wedding gown worn by her mother twenty eight years ago at her wedding, which was an event of June 27, was chosen by Miss Johnda Tootle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Milton Tootle, of Monroe-twp, for her marriage to Mr. Raymond W. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Davis, also of Monroe-twp.

The wedding took place Wednesday morning, June 27, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. W. E. Ewing of the First Christian church of Mt. Sterling read the single ring ceremony in the living room of the home at 10 o'clock in the presence of thirty five guests, members of the immediate families and close friends.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Virginia Linkinaker, of Clifton Forge, Va., a school friend of the bride, gave a short musical program. She sang "O Promise Me," "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," and "Ich Liebe Dich" by Grieg.

The bride carried an arm bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was unattended. Her only ornament was the gold ear-rings which belonged to her great-grandmother, and which have been worn by several brides in the Tootle family.

Baskets of vari-colored garden flowers decorated the home for the wedding and the informal wedding breakfast following the ceremony.

Miss Davis is a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and the University of Cincinnati. While in college, she became associated with Phi Beta, national music sorority, and was president of Women's Pan-Hellenic association at the Conservatory of Music, and editor of the school publication, The Codetta. NORFOLK AND WESTERN RAILWAY

WILL YOU DO YOUR PART?

THIS is the season when automobile traffic is heaviest; it is the "open season" for highway grade crossing accidents. In this connection, the Norfolk and Western Railway presents herewith two records for the consideration of the public.

Record No. 1: Within the past ten years the N. & W. has expended $3,400,000 for the elimination of 147 highway grade crossings on the railroad. To safeguard the thousands who cross its tracks at grade, the railway has provided protection at 281 crossings at an expenditure of $780,000. For the maintenance of these devices and the pay of gatemen and watchmen, it spends $240,000 annually. For years the N. & W. has carried on a vigorous and unremitting campaign to educate the automobile driver to "stop, look and listen".

Record No. 2: Incredible as it may seem, a recent check made at a number of protected grade crossings on the Norfolk and Western revealed—first, that of the total number of automobile drivers who arrived at crossings after the warning signals had begun to operate and before the trains reached the crossings, 61 per cent continued to cross the tracks in utter disregard of the warnings; second, that in practically every case the attitude and conduct of the driver indicated a full consciousness of the signal warning and its purpose. Last year 143 automobile drivers ran through and broke down N. & W. grade crossing gates after they had been lowered for their protection against approaching trains. Last year 27 per cent of all grade crossing accidents on the railroad were due to automobile drivers driving into the sides of trains, either standing on, or passing over, grade crossings. The 1933 grade crossing toll was six killed, 37 injured.

Largely through its huge expenditures and its intensive activities in the interest of public safety, grade crossing accidents on the N. & W. have decreased 61 per cent during the past five years. But the Norfolk and Western and the other railroads of the country cannot alone solve this serious problem. They are doing more than their part. The rest is up to you. Will you do your part?
